EVENT DESCRIPTION

This annual event welcomes First Nations Health, Education, and Leadership throughout Canada to engage with elders, knowledge keepers, and health researchers on the topics of commercial tobacco, vaping, and the traditional teachings of the tobacco plant.

EVENT GOALS

- Provide attendees with the latest information on commercial tobacco in Canada, including vapes through current and upcoming research.
- Provide attendees with the traditional teachings of the tobacco plant among First Nations.
- Provide attendees a space to identify and communicate their community-specific needs in the areas of tobacco (education, policy development etc.).
- Provide a platform for other projects/programs in the field of tobacco to share best practices and relevant research.
- Highlight other tobacco related resources locally, regionally, and nationally.
